

The temperature may be low but the spirits of our students have been high over the past few months!

Kindergarten through third grade entered a "Gratitude Poster Contest" in which each class had three winners! Grades four through eight had the honor again this year of designing a parade float for this year's Saint Patrick's Day colleen; stay tuned to see if Blessed Sacrament will have a winner once again!

Stay tuned also to see if any of these same students won the "Keep Christ in Christmas Poster Contest!" This was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus!

Back in November, we looked at an artist by the name of Robin Moline who was once commissioned to design a postage stamp for the United Postal Service. Grades 4-8 also designed stamps and my what a great job they did!

The artist for December was Leonardo DaVinci and I thought we would have a little fun turning his famous Mona Lisa into a Christmas Mona Lisa complete with Santa hat and embellishments!

Looking forward to guiding your wonderful children during Catholic Schools Week with the variety of Art activities that focus in on shut-ins, veterans and our parish!

Warmly,
